13 2 Open Research

14 AGU requires an Availability Statement for the underlying data needed to under-15 stand, evaluate, and build upon the reported research at the time of peer review and pub-16 lication.

17 Authors should include an Availability Statement for the software that has a sig-
 18 nificant impact on the research. Details and templates are in the Availability Statement 19 section of the Data and Software for Authors Guidance: [https://www.agu.org/Publish-
 20 -with-AGU/Publish/Author-Resources/Data-and-Software-for-Authors#availability](https://www.agu.org/Publish-with-AGU/Publish/Author-Resources/Data-and-Software-for-Authors#availability)

21 It is important to cite individual datasets in this section and, and they must be in-22 cluded in your bibliography. Please use the type field in your bibtex file to specify the 23 type of data cited. Some options include Dataset, Software, Collection, Computa-
 24 tionalNotebook. Ex:
